

Ministry of Education launches new website

Compiled by Glenda Willie

THE DISSEMINATION OF ESSENTIAL information on the Ministry of Education and education community at large can now be efficiently accessed via a recently launched fully featured website, education.gov.vu or moet.gov.vu.

This latest development is part of the organisation's on-going effort to enhance the quality and availability of education services to stake holders worldwide.

A statement issued by the Ministry of Education and Training (MoET) stated that the aim of the project is to better empower students, teachers, and the community members by providing content rich and client oriented products and services.

"The new site boasts extensive content including news and events, examination results, school mapping data, scholarship applications and curriculum readers -all available for free to the public."

The ministry's vision is for a caring education system that provides every young person with the lifelong skills, values and confident to be self-reliant.

Minister of Education, Bob Loughman said, "Our mission is to provide student centered education that is accessible, relevant, sustainable, responsive and of good quality".

He added that, "In the long term we want our site to have a tremendous amount of content in English, French, Bislama and vernacular island languages to better serve all our citizens".

Education ministry has been selected as the flagship ministry to highlight the government's many recent efforts regarding ICT related development projects.

Thus, project assistance was provided by the office of the government chief Information officer as part of fulfilling their goal to increase the use of information and communication Technologies (ICTs) and knowledge to help the public successfully participate in meaningful ways and contribute to the future well-being of their families, communities and nation.

This project would be a welcoming news for the general public, as recently, concerns have been raised on social media regarding outdated information related to the MoET.
